The culture of intellect without religion and morality always becomes a big hoax. Knowledge without conscience is but the ruin of the soul of a person. Hence, a sweet blend of the two is required for the harmonious growth of a student. It is a well established fact that all our creeds and religions are the channels through which spiritual life flows exhibiting the glory of Divine Power which is Infinite, Omnipresent and Omnipotent. That is why, besides imparting traditional knowledge, ethical morality is inculcated to the students either through Morning assemblies or through religious discourses delivered to the students at different intervals where students are asked to discover that every particle of the Cosmos is replete with the Divine.
